

Crystal Huang
People Power Solar
Cooperative

CURRENT ENERGY PARADIGM

Decisions about energy affordability and reliability are made in corporate board rooms, power is centralized in the hands of a few, and profit are prioritized over people and the planet.

Today, corporate power companies and their Wall Street shareholders control the energy systems we rely on.

We pay the price as they fail to provide the energy needed to live, especially during climate disaster.